

THE DAILY COMMONWEALTH.

VOL. 10.

FRANKFORT, KENTUCKY, MAY 18, 1861.

NO. 159.

THE TRI-WEEKLY COMMONWEALTH
Will be published every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, by
A. G. HODGES & COMPANY,
At FOUR DOLLARS PER ANNUM, payable in advance.

THE WEEKLY COMMONWEALTH, a large mammoth sheet, is published every Tuesday morning at TWO DOLLARS PER ANNUM, in advance.
Our terms for advertising, either in the Tri-Weekly or Weekly Commonwealth, will be as liberal as in any of the newspapers published in the west.

The Frankfort Commonwealth.
A. G. HODGES & CO., PROPRIETORS.
J. H. JOHNSON, Editor.

The Proprietors of the Commonwealth, grateful for the generous patronage which has been bestowed upon them, are determined to furnish their patrons a journal which shall be unexcelled in any of the departments which comprise a first class newspaper.

Published at the Capital of the State, it will be enabled to furnish its readers with the latest intelligence of the actions of the higher courts and of the various departments of the State. It will also contain the latest telegraphic news of stirring events, and also of the New York, Cincinnati, Louisville and New Orleans markets.

In politics the Commonwealth will be conservative, occupying a middle and antagonistic ground in reference to the two extremes. The old parties broken up, and old issues virtually dead, the vital question at present is Union or disunion. The Commonwealth is for the Union, believing it to be the greatest safeguard for our rights, as well as our most effective auxiliary in our efforts to obtain redress for our wrongs. Its conductors do not regard disunion as a remedy for any of the wrongs of the South, but rather an aggravation. It will contend for the equality of the States in the Union, and for the absolute non-interference by Congress with the domestic affairs of the States and Territories.

We shall aim to make the Commonwealth an acceptable and appropriate frsides companion. It will contain selections from the choicest literature of the day, prose, poetry, &c.

The Weekly will be printed on extra double medium paper, in new and beautiful type. Terms, in advance, for the Tri-Weekly, $4 per annum.
Terms, for the Weekly $2 per annum.

NOW READY.

A Practical Treatise for the use of Justices of the Peace, Constables, Sheriffs, Jailers, and Coroners in Kentucky.

By RICHARD H. STANTON, MAYSVILLE, KY.

THIS NEW WORK, WHICH HAS been prepared with unusual diligence and care by the author, is intended to be a complete and perfect guide to Justices of the Peace, and the other officers named above, in the discharge of their respective duties under the laws of the state. Its arrangement is such, that while it presents to the officer a full view of the law which he may be called upon to enforce, whether civil or criminal, it affords him such complete and accurate instructions as to the practical manner of discharging his duties, in each particular case, that it will be almost impossible for the least informed among them to go astray.

Every necessary form which a justice of the peace, or other officer may require in the course of his official duties, will be found in its appropriate place in the work; and the instructions are so full, perspicuous and clear, that it will be found an invaluable official companion to those for whom the treatise is intended, and a highly useful work to the legal profession, and all others having business with those officers. The author has spared no labor to make it just such a work as is now most needed by the class of officers whose duties are so fully and clearly explained, and his well known accuracy and success will commend it to the hearty patronage of all persons in Kentucky concerned in the administration of the law.

The work contains six hundred and fifty octavo pages, is printed on fine paper, and with large, clear type, and bound in the very best style. Price, $4 00.

Col. Anderson in Frankfort.

Col. Anderson, the distinguished hero of Fort Sumpter, will be in Louisville to-day, and will probably visit Frankfort on Monday, to see his relatives in this vicinity.

Our gallant city should at once take steps to give him a reception worthy of his fame, and of our high appreciation of his gallant services in defense of the flag of his country.

Our people will see that this matter is attended to.

RICHARD T. JACOB, Esq.—By a card in the Louisville Journal of Friday, we learn that the voters of Oldham county will have the privilege of voting for this staunch Unionist for re-election. The Journal truly remarks that "no more loyal patriot or attentive representative can be found within the limits of the State, and Mr. J. will undoubtedly be returned by an immense majority."

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. WHITAKER asked leave to introduce a preamble and a series of resolutions in relation to the secession of South Carolina and other States, that they might be ordered to be printed: granted.

They were read for information, and are as follows, viz:

WHEREAS, On the 20th day of December last, a Convention, in the State of South Carolina, passed an ordinance of secession, at a time when all the departments of the Government were under the control of those opposed to the present Administration; proceeded to throw off the authority of the Constitution, and of the Government of the United States; and to wage war against it, by overthrowing its courts; by seizing its Custom-houses and revenues; and by assuming and exercising the right to regulate and tax foreign and inter-State commerce; by taking forcible possession of its arsenals; by levying war taxes, and mustering troops; by taking possession, with arms of force, of undefended national forts; by planting batteries around, and regularly investing Sumpter, garrisoned by troops of the nation, under command of an officer of the Government, and a loyal citizen of this State; by cutting off the supplies of the garrison; and, finally, by bombing the fort, hauling down its flag, and taking prisoner its defenders.

And, Whereas, these unconstitutional and revolutionary acts were followed and participated in by Conventions, called and elected by predominant portions of the people of other States; frequently aggravated by treachery to the Government, and forcible seizure and spoliation of its ports, property, on land and sea; its customs and revenues, and consolidated and rendered formidable by revolutionary, State, and Confederate Governments, assuming, without waiting for the consent of the people.

And, Whereas, these responsible and fatal measures were precipitated, without consultation or co-operation with other States of this Union, and particularly Kentucky—always suffering more than them all under the grievances assigned for these acts, and to suffer still more than all the consequences of revolution; but, in every instance, the ruling power in each seceding State, claiming and exercising the right of separate action, regardless of the interests, honor, and sacred rights of the other States, or the binding force of the Federal compact, and sometimes (as in Virginia) in violation of the solemn Legislative act, and the will of the people.

And, Whereas, During the progress of these extraordinary and warlike proceedings, the Federal Government, and the several States now loyal to the Union, refrained from aggression and war, and abstained from the use of force, and planted no batteries; mustered no troops in arms; until the supplies of its feeble garrison were cut off, its fort bombarded, its soldiers taken prisoner, and its flag hauled down, and supplanted by a banner unknown to the Constitution and history of this Republic; and its capital, bearing the name of Washington, threatened with assault, capture and pillage.

And, Whereas, The people of Kentucky, true to the memory and spirit of their ancestors—abounding in a common love to the people of all the free and equal States, and placing a high and inalienable value upon that liberty and union which was, and is, their inalienable inheritance and right—deplored and condemned these revolutionary proceedings in the beginning, during their progress, and now more and more deplore and condemn them, and cannot any longer, without disregard to their honor, their interests, their rights, and their very liberty and safety, remain silent and quiescent; therefore,

We, the Representatives of the People of the State of Kentucky, Declare that the doctrine of secession finds no warrant in the Constitution; that the act of revolution against the Government, perpetrated in an engine of oppression, or for the achievement of liberty exists and is sacred; that no sufficient cause for revolution on the part of the people who have taken up arms against the Government existed, nor does it exist; and it is, therefore, their duty to lay down their arms; cease to aggress upon the Government, and to present their rights in the Union and under the Constitution; that the people of this State have no heart for this war, and will continue, as heretofore, by peaceful discussion and compromise, to labor for their own rights and security; for the cessation of hostilities between the Government and its citizens, and for the restoration and perpetuity of the Union; but that the Union of the States, and the fraternity of their people, is a necessity to Kentucky, for all her interests, all her hopes, all her liberties, are bound up in it; if all her history and traditions, all the virtue, all the intelligence, all the patriotism of all her generations are not delusions or falsehoods. Therefore,

We further declare, That our interests and duty are with the Union and the Government of our country, and not with the enemies of both, and, forced by the violence and injustice of those in arms against us, while we will never consent to the overthrow of the Constitutional rights of the people of any of the States, we will combat revolution in defense of ourselves and our fellow-countrymen, within and without the seceded States, so long as the Government shall act in defense of its Capital, the honor of its flag, and its constitutional functions.

Mr. IRVAN offered the following as a substitute, viz:

Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That we cordially approve of the patriotic course of our Executive, in refusing to comply with the requisition made upon him by Abraham Lincoln, for Kentucky's quota of soldiers, to wage war upon Southern brethren.

Resolved, That there is no authority in the Constitution of the United States to coerce a State—the framers of that instrument having expressly refused to grant any such provision therein.

Resolved, That every consideration of interest, of honor, and of duty, impels us to unite our forces with our Sister Southern States; that our natural sympathies are with them; and for them; that their cause is our cause—their destiny shall be our destiny.

Resolved, That our State ought immediately to be put in a position of defense, and for that purpose this General Assembly should pass a law, appropriating a sufficient amount of money to arm her citizens thoroughly.

Resolved, That a Convention of the people ought to be called at the earliest practicable day, to determine what position Kentucky will occupy in the present crisis of our national affairs.

Mr. FISK offered an amendment to the substitute, as follows, viz:

WHEREAS, There exists a civil war between the National Government and the seceded States, which Kentucky deeply deplores—a war she had no voice in creating, and in which she has hitherto refused to take a part, and she now refuses, being a part of the National Government, in the enjoyment of its benefits—such as mail facilities, national hospitals, federal courts, protection at home and abroad, a garrison paid out of the national treasury, into which she is paying revenue, and having a representation in Congress—Kentucky ought at least to remain neutral till the end of the controversy, neither hindering the National Government in the exercise of its authority, nor furnishing aid, as a State, to either of the belligerents, and asking aid from either to maintain her position, she will all the time be ready and anxious to mediate between the belligerents, and will be profoundly happy should she be able to reconcile the contending parties, and avert the shedding of fraternal blood by fraternal hands.

With this position Kentucky is willing to go before the civilized world and let her conduct pass into history, and await the candid and calm judgment of future and disinterested generations. Being connected with the seceded States geographically, and having the same domestic institutions, she is unwilling to take up arms against them. Being attached to the National Government under which she has always lived and greatly prospered, and having no cause for war against it, she cannot take up arms to overthrow it. Having, in good faith, taken this position, she asks the belligerents to respect it. Therefore,

1st. Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That Kentucky will not sever her connection with the National Government, nor will she take up arms for either of the belligerent parties, but will arm herself for the one purpose of preserving tranquility and peace within her own borders.

2d. Resolved, That Kentucky now tenders, and to the end of the war, all the time will tender herself as mediator, and that she will constantly be ready to act in her power to bring about a just and honorable peace.

3d. Resolved, That the Governor be directed to transmit a copy of the foregoing preamble and resolutions to the Presidents of the United States and of the seceded States, and to the Governor of each of the thirty-four States.

Mr. ANDREWS moved that they all be printed, and referred to the committee on Federal Relations.

Mr. GROVER moved that the committee be instructed to report on Monday at 10 o'clock.

The previous question was ordered.

Mr. DEHAVEN moved an adjournment, carried—yeas, 20; nays, 14.
